PALMETTO'S TREATMENT PHILOSOPHY

A rigid approach to treatment that requires adherence to a fixed treatment program without careful evaluation often results in instances of misdiagnosis and mistreatment of the patient. A primary goal at Palmetto is to ensure that this does not occur. At Palmetto, we believe that the key to successful treatment is an accurate and thorough evaluation, which assesses all aspects of the patient's symptoms and living situation. This is completed before an individual treatment plan is formulated. We assess several factors including:

- Co-occurring psychological disorders
- Psychosocial functioning
- Medical conditions
- Substance use/misuse

Once a proper treatment plan is initiated, our multi-disciplinary team meets each morning to review each patient's progress. A monitored, goal-oriented and patient-centered treatment program includes:

- Detoxification and 24-hour nursing care
- Group, individual and family psychotherapy
- Social skills development and relapse prevention
- Physical fitness and proper nutrition
- Daily attendance at 12-step meetings
- Addressing special issues such as gambling, sexual addiction, and eating disorders
- Medication management, if necessary, determined by a physician

RELAPSE TRACK

Addiction is a chronic disease; therefore the potential for relapse exists. Palmetto offers a specialized residential relapse program for adults who have successfully accomplished some quality sobriety or significant recovery time, but have returned to using alcohol or drugs again.

The relapse track is a specialized residential program that consists of:

- Two phases lasting 6 to 8 weeks
- Admission to the residential treatment center on our main campus
- A comprehensive assessment and evaluation of underlying issues contributing to the individual's "stuck-point" in recovery
- Identification and exploration of relapse patterns and triggers

Relapse follows a set pattern.
Once this pattern is understood, the relapse process can be interrupted before the individual returns to substance abuse.

PROFESSIONALS' RECOVERY PROGRAM

Palmetto provides a specialized group curriculum to meet the specific needs of recovering professionals including:

The professionals' residential therapy and education process focuses on the following:

- Professional ethics and boundaries
- Balanced lifestyle and stress management
- Co-occurring mental health issues

The referral sources and monitoring/licensing organizations receive weekly updates of each professional's progress. Length of stay in this program averages 60 days, followed by specific discharge planning with continuing care recommendations clearly outlined.

THREE-DAY INPATIENT EVALUATION

Utilizing a multi-disciplinary team, patients are evaluated for substance use disorders, process addictions, or any psychiatric condition using current DSM-5 criteria. For assessment, a patient's information is gathered from the following sources:

- Medical history
- Addiction medicine assessment
- Psychosocial history
- Psychological testing
- Physical exam
- Laboratory studies
- Psychiatric evaluation
- Collateral sources

During this evaluation, patients attend didactic group sessions and group therapy in order to provide insight regarding severity of the substance use and their progression in the disease process.

The information and impressions gathered are discussed in the daily treatment team meeting, and an evaluation is shared with the patient on the third day.

Individuals may be admitted to Palmetto for a three-day period to assess the presence and extent of their usage.
